SCHOOL and LIBRARY VISITS

I am available for both in person and virtual visits.

Program:

My presentation features sharing objects, interacting with students, and showing how I get ideas and do research. I discuss the writing and illustrating process and emphasize that the process of creating a nonfiction book is similar to what students do when researching, writing, and illustrating school reports. I also discuss how I started writing and my life as an author and illustrator. During my presentation I show powerpoint slides.

The entire program lasts 30-45 minutes. I adjust the presentation to the level of the audience; with younger children I often end by reading a story.

Workshops:

I am also available to do writing and illustrating workshops with smaller groups of children. For more information, go to my website. I am most comfortable speaking to children in grades K-8.

I will make up to four presentations or workshops during a school day. If time permits I also enjoy meeting more informally with students and teachers. I am happy to autograph books during my visit. You can order books from a local book supplier or my publishers.

Please contact me by email regarding my fee and availability.

WHAT PEOPLE SAY ABOUT CAROLINE ARNOLD'S SCHOOL VISITS

Teachers were brimming over with enthusiasm for your presentation. The personal book signing added a special element to your visit as well. ... Along with adjectives such as Fabulous! Great! Super! and Outstanding! Your presentation was very informative and grade and age appropriate. The teachers all said that the students liked your talk and that it was very inspirational for them because you made the writing process and the research sound interesting.

PTA Parent, San Clemente, California

Everyone had a wonderful time listening to your ideas and seeing your drawings and slides. We appreciate your care in signing the children's books and paying special attention to each child. Each one of them went home with such a special treasure.

Administrator, Huntington Beach, California

I learned about animals like the California condor and other endangered animals. But most importantly, I learned about YOU! I loved hearing about your life. I loved having you come to our classroom and talk about how it is to be an author. I loved hearing about your travels and excitements. I really liked hearing about your career and books. I loved hearing about your childhood. But I really liked hearing about your love of reading. I love to read too!

Fourth grade student, Novato, California

I would like to thank you so much for coming to Shipley and talking to us. For those of us who want to be writers this talk was really fun. The slides were fun to watch. The process of writing a story is interesting to learn about and your visual aids were neat to look at.
